DIGEST AND PURPOSE

Current Texas law requires the Department of Protective and Regulatory Services (DPRS) to edit documents and records related to an adoption in order to protect the identity of the birth parents or other persons whose identity is confidential. S.B. 579 provides that DPRS is not required to do so if the confidential information is already known to the birth parents or can easily be obtained through other sources, such as court records related to the child's custody.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
