DIGEST AND PURPOSE

Currently, Texas law does not require a superintendent or director of a school district, open-enrollment charter school, regional educational service center, or shared services arrangement, to notify the State Board for Educator Certification (SBEC) if an educator abuses or otherwise commits an unlawful act with a student or minor. This hampers SBEC's ability to prevent such an educator from relocating and gaining employment in another school district. S.B. 1488 requires a superintendent or director of a school district, open-enrollment charter school, regional educational service center, or shared services arrangement, to file a report with SBEC if a superintendent or director has reason to believe that an educator has engaged in certain incidents of misconduct. This bill also requires school districts to include information on this requirement in staff development programs. S.B. 1488 requires the Department of Protective and Regulatory Services (DPRS) to orally notify a school superintendent or school director if DPRS investigates a public primary or secondary school employee.
