DIGEST AND PURPOSE

The Texas Private Activity Bond Program (program) is a federal program administered by the Texas Bond Review Board to assist in financing eligible privately-owned public purpose projects. Projects must meet a public purpose to be eligible for private activity bond (PAB) financing. Each year, Texas receives a designated amount of PABs from the federal government based on population. As proposed, S.B. 1663 adjusts the program to meet the state's public needs in a more equitable and comprehensive manner.
