DIGEST AND PURPOSE

Currently, a law enforcement officer is authorized to take custody of a child without a court order under certain circumstances. Once the law enforcement officer takes temporary custody of a child, the officer maintains temporary custody until Child Protective Services (CPS) or the responsible party takes custody of the child. During this interim, the officer is removed from law enforcement duties and emergency response services. S.B. 1665 authorizes employees of or volunteers with a law enforcement agency to assist police officers with the temporary care of a child taken into possession without a court order until further arrangements regarding the child's custody can be made as long as the employee or volunteer has passed a background and criminal history check.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
