Fiscal Analysis

The bill would amend Section 151.318 of the Tax Code to include "biotechnology cleanrooms and equipment," including but not limited to pharmaceutical cleanrooms and equipment, under the sales tax exemption for property used in manufacturing. "Biotechnology cleanrooms and equipment" would mean all tangible personal property, without regard to whether the property was affixed to or incorporated into realty, used in connection with the manufacturing, processing, or fabrication in a cleanroom environment of a biotechnology product, without regard to whether the property was actually contained in the cleanroom environment.

Biotechnology cleanrooms would include lighting, fixtures, piping, and other property, machinery, and equipment necessary to reduce contamination or control environmental conditions or manufacturing tolerances. The term would not include the building or permanent components of the building that house the cleanroom environment. Biotechnology cleanrooms would not be considered intraplant transportation equipment.

The bill would amend Section 313.021(2) of the Tax Code to include biotechnology cleanrooms and equipment under the definition of "qualified property" as it relates to the Texas Economic Development Act.

The bill would take effect July 1, 2003, assuming that it received the requisite two-thirds majority votes in both houses of the Legislature. Otherwise, it would take effect September 1, 2003.

Methodology

Data on Texas expenditures for manufacturing machinery and equipment were obtained from the U.S. Census Bureau. Expenditures were adjusted to reflect items that could be incorporated into a biotechnology cleanroom environment, multiplied by the state sales tax rate, adjusted for potential effective dates of July 1, 2003 and September 1, 2003, and extrapolated through 2008. The fiscal impact on units of local government were estimated proportionally.

Local Government Impact

Local units of government would have a corresponding fiscal impact from sales tax revenues, as indicated in the above tables.
