

R E S O L U T I O N

1 WHEREAS, Proud Americans celebrated the bicentennial of this 2 nation in 1976, and this historic event was commemorated in
3 countless gatherings across the Lone Star State, where citizens
4 paid tribute to their shared heritage and gave thanks for the 5 freedoms we continue to enjoy today as Texans; and

6 WHEREAS, Residents of the community of Terrell Hills observed 7 this momentous occasion with the delivery of a memorable speech by 8 local citizen R. R. Witt, and his words continue to resonate for 9 those who still call this small South Texas community home:

10 "Ladies and Gentlemen, Little People and Pets, 11 All citizens of Terrell Hills assembled here to 12 express our gratitude for the blessings of 200 years of 13 prosperity as free and independent people. I am not 14 competent to adequately express the debt we owe, and 15 the obligation we have to protect and preserve the 16 freedoms we now enjoy. Being clumsy with words, I
17 shall not try. Besides, all 4th of July speeches
18 through the years, have been nothing more than 19 oratorical elaboration on what I've already said, and 20 when they were well done we liked it, and when they 21 weren't we applauded anyway as a patriotic duty.

22 This being Bicentennial year everyone feels we 23 should do more. There seem to be no guidelines as to 24 what to do; just so you do something, and the variety

1 is endless--bumper stickers, ribbon cutting on Mexican 2 restaurants to Bicentennial sales at the supermarket.
3 States and cities, however, seem to have somewhat of a
4 pattern. They recite their rugged beginnings, their 5 achievements, and what they now have to offer. I shall 6 follow that format.

7 It's appropriate that we do so because Terrell
8 Hills' beginning was unique--It was not launched by a 9 subdivision developer but rather was settled by an 10 indentured colony, much like those that settled Texas
11 and our nation. In 1919, Albert Steves, Jr., acting in 12 the capacity of Moses Austin, organized a group of six
13 families and three bachelors who wanted to 'emigrate'
14 from the city and settle in a remote rural area.

15 They selected a 24 acre tract bounded on the 16 south by Terrell Road, on the North by Garrity Road, 17 and westward from Eldon Road. At that time from where 18 we now stand there was nothing northward but open
19 country with scattered mesquite and huisache trees.
20 Dr. Terrell agreed to lay a water main and gas line
21 from New Braunfels Avenue up to the property, and a 50
22 foot gravel road was arranged. It being an extension
23 of Elizabeth Road.

24 Each member of this colony signed a contract
25 dated January 5, 1920, and duly recorded in the County
26 records, that he would, within 5 years, settle and 27 build his home within the 24 acre tract. There were

1 some interesting stipulations in the contract, and 2 some are reminded of how archaic were those
3 times--just a half century ago. I quote: 'The male
4 members of this agreement shall be the governing body,
5 each to have one vote.' Today they would be called male
6 chauvinists--or something worse. Even their male
7 control was a tenuous thing. One of the bachelors
8 dropped out saying he'd given the matter much thought
9 and decided she didn't want to live there.

10 Then came the building boom of the twenties and 11 within a decade Terrell Hills was so heavily populated 12 that the city, by passing an ordinance extended their 13 boundaries to include us. That was about 1930 when 14 Chambers was mayor. I don't know how long we were in 15 the city, but we weren't happy, and when a close city
16 election came up and the incumbents foresaw a heavy 17 vote against them from this area, they rescinded the 18 ordinance. We lost our franchise but regained our 19 freedom.

20 In 1939 when Maverick was seeking election he 21 made it known that he would 'take those silk stocking
22 areas into the city and tax hell out of 'em.' With that 23 advance notice, and the leadership of Pat Swearingen, 24 we held a hasty election on March 25th, voted to 25 incorporate as a separate community and received our 26 charter as 'Town of Terrell Hills' dated March 31,
27 1939. Maverick took office June 1st but was powerless

1 to override our charter.

2 In 1945 the city again attempted to take in both
3 Terrell Hills and Alamo Heights but the courts upheld 4 the law and would not allow the city to take in an 5 incorporated township.

6 Then in 1957 when Terrell Hills population
7 exceeded 5,000 we were eligible for 'Home Rule.' Bill
8 Matthews took charge and we were chartered as City of 9 Terrell Hills with all the powers and privileges other 10 cities enjoy. Bill was elected the first mayor of the 11 City.

12 Following the format, I have told the early 13 beginnings of Terrell Hills; its 'struggle for 14 independence,' and third in the format is 'what we now
15 have to offer.' I'd say, we have the best managed, the 16 best governed--and the best neighbors of any community
17 in this area. What more could we ask!"; and

18 WHEREAS, In observing July 4, 2005, the men, women, and 19 children of Terrell Hills could once again reflect with justifiable 20 pride on the rich history of their community and look with 21 anticipation and optimism to the years that lie ahead; now,
22 therefore, be it

23 RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the 79th Texas
24 Legislature, 1st Called Session, hereby commend R. R. Witt for his 25 1976 July 4th address to the citizens of Terrell Hills and extend to 26 this patriotic community sincere best wishes for the future.
