Fiscal Analysis

The bill would require the Office of Consumer Credit Commissioner to license limited recourse secured loan lenders beginning January 1, 2006, and would require licensed lenders to submit an annual report to the agency.

The bill would take effect September 1, 2005.

Methodology

In order to license an anticipated 1,000 to 1,500 limited resource secured loan lender locations, the agency would require one Administrative Assistant II ($27,000 each year in salary) to process applications, maintain and track bond requirements, maintain current address locations, process annual renewal billing and collection, and maintain and review required annual reports.

The agency would require two Financial Examiner I ($66,000 each year in salary) and one Financial Examiner II ($39,500 each year in salary) to enforce consumer protections related to the limited recourse secured loan industry and respond to consumer complaints.

The agency would also require $39,000 each year for examination travel, $26,000 each year for supplies, postage, document transmission, and other operating expenses, $10,000 in fiscal years 2006 and 2010 for computers and related equipment, and $39,406 each year for employee benefits.

It is anticipated that any costs associated with the bill would be offset by increased fee revenue generated from the new licensed population.

Technology

The Office of Consumer Credit Commissioner would require funding for computers and related equipment for four positions in fiscal years 2006 and 2010.

Local Government Impact

No fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
