Fiscal Analysis

The bill would amend the Government Code and require the Comptroller of Public Accounts to develop and implement an individual development account program. Through this program, the agency would contract with nonprofit organizations to assist low-income persons accumulate assets and savings, expend funds on employment related items, higher education, and other approved items.

Methodology

The bill would require the agency to contract with sponsoring agencies to administer the individual development account program and adopt rules and guidelines for contract monitoring, reporting, and termination of grant recipients. The agency would also be required to serve as a clearinghouse for information on asset development among low-income families and post that information on the agency's website. It is assumed that additional duties and responsibilities for the agency associated with implementing the provisions of the bill could be absorbed within existing state resources.

The bill would also authorize the Legislature to appropriate funds for the program. It is assumed that approximately $500,000 in General Revenue would be appropriated in each fiscal year for this purpose.

This bill would take effect September 1, 2005.

Local Government Impact

No fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
