AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

There are five different disorders which are classified as autism spectrum disorder (ASD): autistic disorder, pervasive developmental disorder, Rett's disorder, Asperger's disorder, and childhood disintegrated disorder. Children and adults with ASD vary in the degree to which they struggle with their social skills, speech, communication, and repetitive behaviors. Children with ASD develop differently from children without ASD and from other children with ASD.

According to the Autism Society of America (society), ASD is one of the fastest growing developmental disabilities, and the cost of care amounts to about $90 billion per year. The society estimates the cost of ASD care could be reduced by two-thirds with early diagnosis and proper intervention.

As proposed, S.B. 1585 requires the Texas Council on Autism and Pervasive Developmental Disorders to establish and administer an ASD resource program to coordinate resources for individuals with autism and other pervasive developmental disorders and their families.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to any state officer, institution, or agency.
