Fiscal Analysis

This bill is the sunset legislation for the Texas Animal Health Commission and if adopted would continue the Commission for another 12 years. The bill also includes the following Sunset Commission recommendations: (1)clarifies the Commission's role in preparing for and responding to natural or man-made emergencies, including a study of the State's capacity to perform disease testing during emergencies; (2)clarifies the Commission's authority to address diseases in other species that threaten livestock and fowl; (3)clarifies the Commission's authority to register feral swine holding facilities and regulate movement of feral swine for disease-control purposes;and, (4)establishes an agencywide compliance policy and improves public information regarding its compliance process.

The bill would take effect September 1, 2007.

Methodology

SECTION 15: According to the Commission, only Section 15 of the legislation would have a fiscal impact. This section requires the Commission with the Texas Veterinary Medicine Diagnostic Laboratory (TVMDL) and the Texas Department of Agriculture, to jointly conduct a study of the state's animal health laboratory capacity and provide the Governor, the Lt. Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives with a report by December 31, 2008. Some portions of the study can be performed by TAHC and TVMDL; other portions, however, are beyond the scope of available resources and would need to be performed via contract for services. The Commission estimates the cost of the study to be $300,000. Since no other funding source is available for the study, this cost is assumed to be out of the General Revenue Fund.

Local Government Impact

No fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
