AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Metropolitan transit authorities receive minimal sales and use tax information from the Office of the Comptroller of Public Accounts (comptroller). Additional information that is available to other local governmental entities has proven a useful tool for budgeting, forecasting, and cash flow management, and for collecting additional sales tax revenue that is currently due but not collected.

The current information available to transit or transportation authorities is the same information available to Texas counties. Currently transit authorities may receive a quarterly report listing every holder of a sales tax permit, and every permit holder that is delinquent on sales tax remittances to the state.

Municipal governments have access to a great deal of additional information that is currently unavailable to transit authorities. The detailed information available to municipalities allows for a comprehensive analysis of the sales tax composition, changes, and the performance of given businesses and segments of the economy. This data allows municipalities to forecast sales tax revenues and better manage cash flow to the city. Furthermore, it allows municipalities to identify businesses that remit sales tax and work with those companies to enhance the business climate of the area.

As proposed, S.B. 1934 entitles transit and transportation authorities access to the same sales and use tax information from the comptroller as is provided by the comptroller to municipalities.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
