5 Harold Luhn was raised in Bellville and graduated from Bellville
6 High School; his interest in agriculture inspired him to earn the 7 Lone Star FFA degree from the Texas FFA Association in 1973, and he 8 went on to receive the American FFA degree, the national 9 organization's highest achievement, two years later; and

10 WHEREAS, Mr. Luhn made his living as a farmer and rancher, and 11 he was active in a variety of agriculture-related activities,
12 including the Austin County Fair, an event he had first 13 participated in when he was an infant and his parents had carried 14 him on horseback in the parade; as an adult, he kept up a family 15 tradition started by his father by serving various administrative 16 functions for the fair, including a three-year term as president, 17 and in 2008, he had the honor of being the parade marshal for the 18 81st annual fair parade; in addition, Mr. Luhn was vice chair of the 19 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo Go Texan Contest Committee and 20 served as director of the Austin County Farm Bureau; respected 21 throughout the state for his many contributions, he was named the 22 2006 Volunteer of the Year by the Texas Association of Fairs and 23 Events; and

24 WHEREAS, This notable Texan married the former Rosie Reznicek

1 in 1977, and the couple were blessed with two daughters, Laurie and 2 Shawna; a devoted husband and father, Mr. Luhn cherished the time he 3 spent with his children and adored his two granddaughters; he was 4 also an antique tractor enthusiast, and his knowledge of farm 5 machinery allowed him to collaborate on the development of an 6 innovative hay-baling device; and

7 WHEREAS, Active in his community, Mr. Luhn was a parishioner 8 at Sts. Peter and Paul Catholic Church in Bellville and a member of 9 the Holy Name Society, and his many civic contributions were 10 honored with his selection as Lions Club Citizen of the Year in 11 2007; and

12 WHEREAS, Harold Luhn brightened the lives of countless people
13 during his time on this earth, and though he will be greatly missed, 14 memories of his generosity and dedication will forever be cherished 15 by those who were privileged to share in his life; now, therefore,
