Fiscal Analysis

The bill would amend the Parks and Wildlife Code to allow a non-resident who was born in Texas to purchase a lifetime non-resident hunting and/or fishing license at the same price as a resident. The bill would authorize an increase in the fee for the lifetime hunting license, as well as the fee for the lifetime fishing license from $300 to $800. The bill would authorize an increase in the combination hunting and fishing license from $500 to $1500. The bill would take effect September 1, 2009.

Methodology

According to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department (TPWD), one-time gain in revenue of $616,000 to the General Revenue-Dedicated Lifetime License Endowment Fund No. 544 in fiscal year 2010 would be offset by revenue loss to the General Revenue-Dedicated Game, Fish and Water Safety Account No. 9 of $114,526 in fiscal year 2010 and each year thereafter. These estimates are based on fiscal year 2008 sales of non-resident hunting and fishing licenses.

TPWD indicates in fiscal year 2008 there were approximately 28,938 non-resident hunting licenses sold, and approximately 48,093 non-resident fishing licenses sold (representing freshwater, saltwater, and all-water licenses). TPWD estimates that approximately 1 percent of these non-residents are Texas born and would choose to purchase the lifetime license representing a population of 289 hunters and 481 fishermen.

Assuming the lifetime license represents a one-time purchase (as opposed to annual fees for the traditional non-resident hunting and fishing licenses), this analysis assumes all of these 770 non-residents would purchase the lifetime license in fiscal year 2010. The bill would authorize a resident lifetime hunting license fee of $800 and a resident lifetime fishing license of $800. This would represent a gross revenue gain of approximately $616,000 ($800 multiplied by 289 hunters + $800 multiplied by 481 fishermen) in the Lifetime License Endowment Fund in fiscal year 2010. TPWD also offers a combo lifetime license with a proposed fee increase from $500 to $1500; however, this was excluded from this estimate because TPWD does not offer a non-resident combo license, so no reasonable estimate of the population could be made. At $300 for a non-resident hunting license and an average of $57.85 for a fishing license (average between freshwater, saltwater, and all-water licenses) this represents a revenue loss of $114,526 (289 hunters multiplied by $300 + 481 fishermen multiplied by $57.85) each fiscal year from 2010-2015.
