AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

S.B. 1056, 81st Legislature, Regular Session, 2009, attempted to provide parity to hundreds of thousands of children who, rather than being charged with conduct indicating a need for supervision in juvenile courts, are convicted of Class C misdemeanor criminal offenses in municipal and justice courts. Specifically, S.B. 1056 enacted Section 411.081(f-1) (relating to requiring a convicting court to immediately issue an order prohibiting criminal justice agencies from disclosing to the public criminal history record information related to a misdemeanor offense punishable by fine only that does not constitute conduct indicating a need for supervision under Section 51.03 (Delinquent Conduct; Conduct Indicating A Need For Supervision), Family Code), Government Code, requiring an automatic order of nondisclosure upon conviction of a child for fine-only misdemeanor offenses.

Under the nondisclosure statute in Section 411.081(f-1), Government Code, municipal and justice courts upon conviction automatically enter the order and send a copy to the Department of Public Safety (DPS) containing a listing of all other entities believed to have information pertaining to the arrest and conviction. Upon receipt, DPS is supposed to notify those listed entities of the order that prohibits them from disclosing the information, except to a privileged few.

For many Class C misdemeanor offenses, the only parties with information pertaining to an offense and conviction are the local police department and the municipal or justice court, yet the court must send notice to DPS in Austin for DPS to send notice back to the police department, which is often in the same building as the court. To date, few, if any courts have received notice of their orders from DPS; thus these nondisclosure orders are not reaching the appropriate entities.

As proposed, S.B. 1752 amends current law relating to confidentiality of Class C misdemeanor records related to the conviction of a child.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

This bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, institution, or agency.
