2 educator and an admired jazz musician with the death of Edward 3 Galvan of Corpus Christi on February 15, 2011, at the age of 83; and

4 WHEREAS, Eddie Galvan was born on August 19, 1927, to Rafael
5 and Virginia Galvan; his father gave him violin lessons, but he 6 wanted to be a horn player and snuck a saxophone home from school to 7 teach himself to play; and

8 WHEREAS, While still a young man, he and his brother Bobby 9 opened the Galvan Music Company and the Galvan Ballroom in Corpus 10 Christi, where together with their brothers Sammy and Ralph they 11 performed during the height of the swing era as the Galvan Brothers,
12 often accompanying such music legends as Duke Ellington, Stan
13 Kenton, Tommy Dorsey, and Gene Krupa; and

14 WHEREAS, After graduating from Corpus Christi High School in 15 1945, Mr. Galvan earned an associate's degree at Del Mar College; he 16 went on to earn a bachelor's degree and a master's degree in music
17 from Texas College of Arts and Industries in 1952 and 1953, 18 respectively; and

19 WHEREAS, Mr. Galvan began his career in education as a 20 teacher in Premont in 1953, and three years later, he joined the 21 Corpus Christi Independent School District; from 1973 until he 22 retired from the district in 1985, he was the district's 23 coordinator of music and director of human resources; and

24 WHEREAS, An inspiring teacher who was known to his devoted

1 students as "Mr. G.," Mr. Galvan led the Battlin' Bucs band of Roy
2 Miller High School to many University Interscholastic League
3 victories; under his baton, the Bucs also won outstanding band
4 honors at Six Flags Over Texas and the Houston Baptist Music
5 Festivals; they received the Victor's Trophy at the 1968 Cotton
6 Bowl, and the following year, Mr. Galvan was invited to be guest 7 conductor at the Cotton Bowl Pageant; and

8 WHEREAS, After retiring from Corpus Christi ISD in 1985, Mr.
9 Galvan continued to teach as an associate professor of music at 10 Corpus Christi State University until 1991, when he was appointed 11 dean of music at Vidal M. Trevino School of Communications and Fine 12 Arts in Laredo, a position he held for eight years; and

13 WHEREAS, The dynamic Mr. Galvan also found time to serve as 14 vice president of the Band Division of the Texas Music Educators
15 Association and as president of the Texas Bandmasters Association;
16 from 1973 through 1994, he was a Port of Corpus Christi 17 commissioner; and

18 WHEREAS, For more than four decades, Mr. Galvan performed as 19 the front man of the Eddie Galvan Orchestra, delighting audiences
20 throughout South Texas; he cofounded the Texas Jazz Festival, where 21 he was a headliner for many years, and in 2004, he and his brother 22 Bobby were inducted into the South Texas Music Walk of Fame; the 23 band hall at Roy Miller High School was renamed in his honor, and in 24 2008, he was inducted into the South Texas Region XIV Band Directors 25 Hall of Fame; and
