Austin, Texas

FISCAL NOTE, 82ND LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

April 14, 2011

TO: Honorable Chris Harris, Chair, Senate Committee on Jurisprudence

FROM: John S O'Brien, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB904 by Thompson (Relating to court costs imposed on conviction and deposited to the municipal court building security fund.), As Engrossed

No fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would amend the Code of Criminal Procedure to increase court costs imposed on conviction of misdemeanor offenses from $3 to $4 to be deposited into a municipal court building security fund if a municipality has established a fund.

According to the Office of Court Administration (OCA), the total number of municipal court convictions for fiscal year (FY) 2010 was 4,712,841. Assuming a collection rate of 65 percent, and that all municipalities have a municipal court building security fund to assess the court cost, the total additional revenue for all municipalities would be $3,063,347 that would vary depending on the number of misdemeanor convictions.

Local Government Impact

According to information reported to the Comptroller of Public Accounts by several municipalities, there would be additional revenue for the court cost increase, but it would vary and is not anticipated to be significant.

The City of Houston currently collects $1.0 million annually with the current fee, but would collect $1.3 million in FY 2012 which would be additional revenue of $277,778.

The City of Mesquite currently collects $45,000 annually with the current fee, but would collect $60,000 in fiscal year FY 2012 which would be additional revenue of $15,000.

The City of Hurst currently collects $41,000 annually with the current fee, but would collect $54,666 in fiscal year FY 2012 which would be additional revenue of $13,666.
