Fiscal Analysis

The bill would amend Chapter 107 of the Alcoholic Beverage Code regarding the importation and shipment of alcoholic beverages for personal consumption. The bill would expand who may import alcoholic beverages for personal use without being required to hold a permit to include any person; currently it is limited to only Texas residents. The bill would also allow for a person relocating to Texas to import a personal malt beverage or distilled spirit collection as a part of that person's household goods; currently only a wine collection is allowed.

The bill would also increase the administrative fee collected by the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission (TABC) on imported alcoholic beverages from $.50 to $3.00. The bill would repeal Sections 107.07 (b) and (c), and 107.12, Alcoholic Beverage Code. The bill would make conforming changes to various sections of the code.

The bill would take effect September 1, 2011.

Methodology

The Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA) estimates increasing the administrative fee on imported alcoholic beverages from $.50 to $3.00 would result in $4 million annually in additional revenue to the state. Data was gathered on the revenue collections for the administrative fee collected on alcoholic beverages imported into this state. The figures were adjusted to account for the change in eligible persons importing into this state for personal consumption and multiplied by the new fee rate. The TABC estimates a one-time implementation cost in fiscal year 2012 of $12,750 for reprinting of pamphlets, signs and miscellaneous expenses.

Local Government Impact

No significant fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
