BILL ANALYSIS

C.S.H.B. 418
By: Farias
Defense & Veterans' Affairs
Committee Report (Substituted)

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

Texas does not generally provide post-deployment leave or reintegration time to veterans returning to employment with state agencies. Interested parties contend that post-deployment leave programs, such as the veteran assistance program administered by the Department of Public Safety (DPS), are beneficial to veterans. The DPS program assists veteran employees and their families by providing, among other services and benefits, post-deployment leave upon a veteran's return to the agency. C.S.H.B. 418 seeks to create a post-deployment leave program for state employees.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

It is the committee's opinion that this bill does not expressly grant any additional rulemaking authority to a state officer, department, agency, or institution.

ANALYSIS

C.S.H.B. 418 amends the Government Code to entitle an employee of an agency in the executive or judicial branch of state government to leave if the state employee is a member of a reserve component of the U.S. military, including the National Guard; is ordered to federal active duty for at least 180 days during a period of war or during an ongoing recognized conflict for which a campaign medal is authorized, or to support stability operations after the end of a war or conflict; and received an honorable discharge or a general discharge under honorable conditions after the completion of service.

C.S.H.B. 418 requires such a state employee who is reemployed by a state agency after military service to be granted leave without a deduction in salary or loss of vacation time, sick leave, earned overtime credit, or state compensatory time to tend to matters relating to the employee's military service or reintegration into civilian life, including obtaining medical or mental health care and receiving employee assistance counseling. The bill caps the amount of leave granted for such purposes at 15 days and requires the leave to be used before the first anniversary of the date the employee is reemployed by the state agency. The bill also requires such a state employee to be granted, on each anniversary of the date the employee is reemployed, up to 10 days of leave to tend to those matters without a deduction in salary or loss of vacation time, sick leave, earned overtime credit, or state compensatory time. The bill prohibits the amount of any unused leave from being carried forward to a subsequent year. The bill authorizes the administrative head of a state agency to grant additional days of such leave as the administrative head determines appropriate for the employee.
