AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Chapter 1102 (Real Estate Inspectors) of the Occupations Code pertains to the licensing and regulation of real estate inspectors by the Texas Real Estate Commission (TREC). Currently, certain agency practices related to inspectors do not match those used by TREC for other licensees under its jurisdiction. For example, other licensees are given a full year to complete their requirements for licensure while an application is open, but inspectors must complete their requirements for licensure within six months. Other TREC licensees are allowed to renew their expired license within six months of expiration by paying a late fee. Inspectors are not granted a late renewal period and must file an entirely new license application if they do not renew in a timely manner. Also, inspector applicants who fail the qualifying examination three times must wait six months before retaking the examination. No other license holders are subject to this punitive measure. Furthermore, whereas other licensees under TREC's jurisdiction are required to submit to fingerprinting and criminal history background review prior to licensure, real estate inspectors are not. The current statute also allows inspector applicants seeking licensure under the "fast track" method to meet their field experience requirements in a classroom setting. This often results in an inspector's first actual hands-on experience occurring at the same time as that inspector's initial inspection assignment. Addressing all of these matters will benefit the inspectors, reduce costs, and streamline agency operations.

In 2007, S.B. 914 mandated Errors and Omissions (E&O) coverage for real estate inspectors. While the bill capped the per occurrence amount at $100,000, it was silent as to any aggregate limit. This has caused some confusion in the marketplace. Inspectors are unable to properly shop for insurance on a clear comparative basis and TREC does not have a statutory standard by which to properly judge compliance with the mandated insurance requirement. Additionally, an attorney general opinion has indicated that TREC effectively lacks authority to issue or renew licenses in the event that E&O coverage becomes unavailable in the Texas market, raising additional concerns from the inspector industry. Finally, it is redundant to mandate E&O coverage for inspectors and to maintain the current Inspector Recovery Fund, which is virtually unused since the advent of mandatory E&O insurance to benefit consumers.

H.B. 2911 amends current law to conform agency practices related to real estate inspectors to match those used by TREC for its other licensees. In addition, the bill clarifies pre-license education requirements to authorize some hands-on training prior to a licensee commencing field inspections of homes for Texas consumers. The bill also contains language that will enable TREC to better communicate with inspectors. Finally, the bill clarifies the current mandated financial responsibility requirements by adding a bond option which provides an alternative to E&O coverage and under which TREC could continue to issue and renew licenses and inspectors could continue to work, should the market cease to provide E&O coverage. The bill also provides a mechanism for winding down the Inspector Recovery Fund, including a provision to refund to active inspectors up to $100 of the fees each previously paid into the recovery fund.

H.B. 2911 amends current law relating to the regulation of real estate inspectors, and changes fees.

(b) Requires an inspector, not later than the 30th day after the date the inspector changes the inspector's mailing address, e-mail address, or telephone number, rather than place of business, to notify TREC of the change and pay any required fee, rather than the required fee.

SECTION 8. Amends Section 1102.153, Occupations Code, to require a license applicant who does not satisfy the examination requirement before the first anniversary of the date the application is filed, rather than within six months after the date the application is filed, to submit a new application and pay another examination fee to be eligible for examination.

SECTION 9. Amends Section 1102.155(b), Occupations Code, as follows:

(b) Prohibits an applicant who fails the examination three consecutive times from applying for reexamination or submitting a new license application unless after the date of the third failed examination the applicant completes additional educational requirements as prescribed by TREC and submits evidence satisfactory to TREC of successful completion of those requirements, rather than prohibiting an applicant who fails the examination three consecutive times in connection with the same application from applying for reexamination or submitting a new license application before six months after the date of the third failed examination.

SECTION 10. Amends Section 1102.202, Occupations Code, to require TREC, not later than the 31st day before the expiration date of a person's license, to provide notice of the license expiration to the person, rather than send to the person at the person's last known address according to TREC's records written notice of the license expiration.

Sec. 1102.203. New heading: RENEWAL OF LICENSE; INFORMATION REQUIRED. (a) Authorizes a person to renew an unexpired license by paying the required renewal fee to TREC before the expiration date of the license and providing proof of financial responsibility, rather than providing proof of liability insurance, as required by Section 1102.114, rather than Section 1102.114(3) (relating to requiring TREC to issue the appropriate license to an applicant who offers proof that the applicant carries certain liability insurance).

(a-1) Authorizes a person whose license has been expired for 90 days or less to renew the license by paying to TREC a fee equal to 1-1/2 times the required renewal fee. (b) Prohibits a person, if the person's license has been expired for six months or longer, rather than if the person's license expires, from renewing the license. Authorizes the person to obtain a new license by submitting to reexamination, if required, and complying with the requirements and procedures for obtaining an original license.

(c) Requires each applicant for the renewal of a license to disclose to TREC in the license application whether the applicant has:

(b) Requires that an administrative penalty collected under this section be deposited to the credit of the general revenue fund and is required to offset any amount required to be remitted to the general revenue fund by TREC, rather than requiring that an administrative penalty collected under this section for a violation by an inspector be deposited to the credit of the real estate inspection recovery fund. Deletes existing text requiring that a penalty collected under this section for a violation by a person who is not licensed under this chapter or Chapter 1101 (Real Estate Brokers and Salespersons) be deposited to the credit of the real estate recovery trust account or the real estate inspection recovery fund, as determined by TREC.

(b) Requires TREC, not later than August 31, 2015, to transfer not less than $300,000 from the real estate inspection recovery fund to the general revenue fund.

(c) Requires TREC, not later than November 1, 2017, to determine the remaining liability of the real estate inspection recovery fund based on any pending claims for payment under former Subchapter H, Chapter 1102, Occupations Code.

(d) Requires TREC, after determining the remaining liability under Subsection (c) of this section, to refund to each eligible inspector a portion of the amount in excess of the remaining liability of the real estate inspection recovery fund, if the eligible inspector holds a license issued under Chapter 1102, Occupations Code, as of the date of the refund. Prohibits a refund under this subsection from exceeding $100 per person.

(e) Requires TREC to transfer any money remaining in the real estate inspection recovery fund to the general revenue fund after paying all claims for payment from the fund and issuing refunds under Subsection (d) of this section.

(f) Provides that any money transferred to the general revenue fund under this section is required to offset any amount required to be remitted to the general revenue fund from TREC.

SECTION 17. (a) Provides that Sections 1102.1051 and 1102.1141, Occupations Code, as added by this Act, and Sections 1102.109, 1102.110, 1102.111, 1102.114, 1102.153, 1102.155, and 1102.402, Occupations Code, as amended by this Act, apply only to an application for an inspector license submitted to TREC on or after the effective date of this Act. Provides that an administrative penalty that is collected before the effective date of this Act is governed by the law in effect on the date the administrative penalty was collected, and the former law is continued in effect for that purpose.

(d) Requires that a claim for payment from the real estate inspection recovery fund under former Section 1102.355 (Claim for Payment From Fund), Occupations Code, for a cause of action that accrues before September 1, 2013, be filed before September 1, 2017.

SECTION 18. Effective date: September 1, 2013.
