

BILL ANALYSIS

C.S.H.B. 3544
By: Menéndez
Defense & Veterans' Affairs
Committee Report (Substituted)

BACKGROUND AND PURPOSE

A veteran who transitions from serving in the military to being a student has unique requirements. Interested parties report that a large percentage of veterans returning from Afghanistan have some type of disability, ranging from varying degrees of post-traumatic stress disorder and traumatic brain injury to physical wounds, including severe burns and loss of limbs. Such parties further report that, since the enactment of the Post-9/11 GI Bill, there has been unprecedented growth in the utilization of veterans programs in Texas. Interested parties assert that the growth of veteran presence on campuses coupled with the complex physical and emotional needs of those veterans creates a need to standardize existing support systems across the state's agencies and its higher education campuses.

C.S.H.B. 3544 seeks to make higher education campuses more veteran-friendly by proposing policies to better serve veterans throughout Texas, including transferring the administration of certain benefits from the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to the Texas Veterans Commission, creating veterans education resource counselors modeled after other effective veteran service programs, and establishing a state award recognizing universities and colleges for excellence in veteran education.

RULEMAKING AUTHORITY

It is the committee's opinion that rulemaking authority previously granted to the Texas Higher Coordinating Board is transferred to the Texas Veterans Commission in SECTION 1 of this bill and that rulemaking authority is expressly granted to the Texas Veterans Commission in SECTION 4 of this bill.

ANALYSIS

C.S.H.B. 3544 amends the Government Code to require the Texas Veterans Commission to assist veterans and their family members in claiming and qualifying for exemptions from the payment of tuition and fees at institutions of higher education through its veteran education program. The bill requires the commission to establish the application and necessary evidence requirements for a person to claim such an exemption at an institution of higher education.

C.S.H.B. 3544 transfers and redesignates Education Code provisions relating to the electronic system that monitors the use of tuition exemptions for veterans at institutions of higher education to the portion of the Government Code prescribing the duties of the commission. The bill requires the commission to ensure that a system is developed to electronically monitor the use of tuition and fee exemptions for veterans, other military personnel, and their dependents at institutions of higher education, removes the requirement that the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board develop such a system, and updates statutory provisions to reflect that change and redesignation. The bill adds a temporary provision, set to expire September 1, 2015, requiring the coordinating board, not later than January 1, 2014, to provide to the commission the system, or access to the system, developed by the coordinating board that meets specified requirements.

C.S.H.B. 3544 amends the Government Code to require the commission by rule to establish an award program under which institutions of higher education may receive recognition from the commission for excellence in providing education and related services to veterans. The bill requires the commission to evaluate an institution, for purposes of receiving such an award, regarding the existence and quality at the institution of certain criteria as specified by the bill, including any criteria considered necessary or appropriate by the commission. The bill authorizes the commission to adopt rules as necessary to administer the veteran education excellence recognition award network. The bill requires the commission, in developing such rules, to consult with the coordinating board and institutions of higher education.

C.S.H.B. 3544 requires the commission, as soon as practicable after the bill's effective date, to employ regional veterans education counselors and sets out the required duties of those counselors relating to the enhancement of the educational opportunities of veterans and their family members in the applicable higher education region and throughout Texas. The bill requires the commission, as soon as practicable after the bill's effective date, to employ a program manager to administer the regional veterans education counselors program. The bill requires the program manager to provide leadership, training, support, and overall management of the regional veterans education counselors; to produce an annual report on veterans' attendance at institutions of higher education using data provided by the coordinating board; and to perform any other task required by the commission. The bill requires the commission to assign regional veterans education counselors throughout Texas with at least one counselor assigned responsibility for serving not more than two of the higher education regions as specified by the bill. The bill requires each institution of higher education to cooperate with the commission to provide information, as permitted by law, related to student veterans at the institution, to provide access to veteran resource centers or other student meeting areas, and to otherwise support the work of regional veterans education counselors. The bill authorizes the commission to adopt rules to implement the regional veterans education counselors program and requires the commission, in developing such rules, to consult with the coordinating board and institutions of higher education.

C.S.H.B. 3544 amends the Education Code to transfer certain duties relating to tuition and fee benefits, waivers, and exemptions for veterans, other military personnel, and their dependents from the coordinating board to the commission. The bill authorizes the commission to adopt rules to provide for the efficient and uniform application of such benefits, waivers, and exemptions and requires the commission, in developing such rules, to consult with the coordinating board and institutions of higher education. The bill specifies that the procedures the commission is required to prescribe by rule by which a child who suffered from a severe illness or other debilitating condition that affected the child's ability to use an exemption before reaching the prescribed age may be granted additional time to use the exemption are procedures for such a child who is assigned an exemption under provisions that allow a person who becomes eligible for an exemption under specified statutory provisions to waive the person's right to any unused portion of the maximum number of cumulative credit hours for which the person could receive the exemption and assign the unused portion of those credit hours to the person's child and that allow, following the death of a person who becomes eligible for an exemption under specified statutory provisions, the assignment of the exemption for the unused portion of the credit hours to the person's child, to be made by the person's spouse or by the conservator, guardian, custodian, or other legally designated caretaker of the child, if the child does not otherwise qualify for the exemption under specified statutory provisions. The bill makes these provisions applicable beginning with tuition and fees for the 2014 fall semester.

C.S.H.B. 3544 repeals a statutory provision that would repeal Section 54.203(h), Education Code, effective September 1, 2013, and provides that such repeal does not take effect. The bill clarifies that Section 54.341(h), Education Code, which was redesignated from that section, remains in effect as amended by the bill.

C.S.H.B. 3544 repeals Section 9.01(b)(4), Chapter 1049 (S.B. 5), Acts of the 82nd Legislature, Regular Session, 2011.

EFFECTIVE DATE

On passage, or, if the bill does not receive the necessary vote, the 91st day after the last day of the legislative session.
