Austin, Texas

FISCAL NOTE, 83RD LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

April 8, 2013

TO: Honorable Jimmie Don Aycock, Chair, House Committee on Public Education

FROM: Ursula Parks, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB2662 by Farney (Relating to requiring a personal financial literacy credit for graduation under the recommended and advanced high school programs.), As Introduced

No significant fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would amend the Education Code to require a personal financial literacy credit for graduation under the recommended and advanced high school programs. Based on the analysis of the Texas Education Agency, the duties and responsibilities associated with implementing the provisions of the bill could be accomplished by using existing resources. The bill would become effective immediately upon approval by appropriate voting majorities, or on September 1, 2013.

Local Government Impact

School districts could incur costs to obtain instructional materials and to hire additional staff to teach the additional one-half credit personal financial literacy course.
