FISCAL NOTE, 83RD LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

March 25, 2013

TO: Honorable John Whitmire, Chair, Senate Committee on Criminal Justice

FROM: Ursula Parks, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: SB1348 by West (Relating to certain criminal offenses concerning the unlawful transfer or purchase of certain weapons.), As Introduced

No significant fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would amend the Penal Code to increase the punishment for unlawful transfer of a weapon from a Class A misdemeanor to a third degree felony. The bill also adds unlawful purchase of weapons and knowingly making a false or misleading statement for purposes of complying with the national instant criminal background check system to the definition of this offense. The bill also adds any firearm to certain provisions of this statute. The bill would increase the maximum term of imprisonment to 15 years if a person directed, managed or supervised five or more persons engaged in certain violations of this offense.

The bill increases the penalty for unlawful transfer of weapons and expands the definition of this offense. Increasing the penalty and expanding the definition for any criminal offense is expected to increase demands on state and/or county correctional agency resources due to longer terms of community supervision, county jail confinement, state correctional institution confinement, and/or parole. In the case of the bill, it is assumed that the number of offenders supervised or incarcerated under this statute would not significantly impact state correctional agencies' workload and programs

Local Government Impact

Implementing the bill's provisions could increase the number of offenders remanded to state prisons rather than county jails. This change is expected to reduce demands on county resources. The average cost per day to house an inmate in a county jail varies by county. Savings to local entities would depend on the number of individuals convicted under this section; however, the fiscal impact is not anticipated to be significant.
