H.C.R. No. 91

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

1 WHEREAS, A provision in President Barack Obama's 2016 federal 2 budget would deprive Texas and three other Gulf Coast states of 3 hundreds of millions of dollars by redirecting funds owed them 4 under the 2006 Gulf of Mexico Energy Security Act; and

5 WHEREAS, The legislation known as GOMESA requires the federal 6 government to share with Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, and Alabama 7 37.5 percent of the revenue it collects from offshore oil and gas 8 rigs in the Gulf; in 2013, these rigs produced 17 percent of the 9 nation's 2.7 billion barrels of crude oil; and

WHEREAS, To date, only about $34 million has been distributed under GOMESA, mostly generated by drilling in the eastern Gulf; revenue will increase substantially in a few years as the law begins to cover the far more productive central Gulf, and the White House estimates the value of GOMESA revenue at $367 million for 2018; and

WHEREAS, The GOMESA funds are intended to compensate the 15 16 states for the environmental impact of offshore drilling, but the president's budget would reallocate payments to a broad range of 17 programs around the country; such a redirection of funds would be 18 particularly inappropriate, given that inland states may keep half 19 20 of energy revenue produced on federal property, while the states 21 covered by GOMESA are receiving a little more than a third of offshore drilling revenue that affects their coastlines; and 22

23 WHEREAS, The Gulf Coast states and neighboring offshore 24 waters have produced hundreds of billions of barrels of oil and tens

9 RESOLVED, That the 84th Legislature of the State of Texas 10 hereby respectfully urge the president of the United States to 11 abandon the budget proposal redirecting offshore drilling revenue 12 due to Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, and Mississippi under the Gulf of 13 Mexico Energy Security Act; and, be it further
