CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

1 WHEREAS, The Red River Boundary Compact of 2000 set the 2 boundary between Texas and Oklahoma at the vegetation line on the 3 south bank of the Red River, with the exception of the Texoma area,
4 where the boundary is established pursuant to procedures outlined 5 in the agreement; and

6 WHEREAS, In 2013, the United States Bureau of Land Management
7 began developing a resource management plan for the use of land
8 along a 116-mile stretch of the Red River; it claims that as many as

13 for generations, and they have been paying property taxes on the 14 land while cultivating and maintaining it; the boundary between the 18 difficult for property owners to make informed decisions concerning 19 its disposition and their livelihoods; and

20 WHEREAS, Private property rights are the bedrock of a free 21 society, and the actions of the Bureau of Land Management with 22 regard to land covered by the Red River Boundary Compact are an 23 egregious example of federal overreach; now, therefore, be it

3 Boundary Compact and to acknowledge that the vegetation line on the 4 south bank of the Red River forms the boundary between Oklahoma and 5 Texas; and, be it further
