

R E S O L U T I O N

1           WHEREAS, The winning of World War II required the dedication 2 and sacrifice of millions of Americans and their families, and the 3 demands of that titanic struggle fell especially heavily on the 4 Trevino family of Zapata, who sent six brothers into harm's way; and

5           WHEREAS, Descendants of land-grant owners in Zapata County, 6 Filiberto and Luisa Cuellar Trevino were the parents of six sons and 7 four daughters, and over the course of World War II, all six 8 brothers served honorably in the U.S. Army, in locations around the 9 world and in several different theaters of combat; and

10           WHEREAS, The family's oldest son, Teodoro, joined the army in 11 June 1941, before the attack on Pearl Harbor; a medic in the Medical 12 Corps for four and a half years, he served first in Arkansas and 13 later in India; Antonio Trevino enlisted in the army three days
14 after Pearl Harbor and served for four years with the Coast
15 Artillery Corps; sent to England after various postings stateside,
16 he subsequently led an antiaircraft crew in France in the months 17 after D-Day; and

18           WHEREAS, Anselmo Trevino, Filiberto Trevino Jr., and their 19 maternal uncle Manuel Cuellar were all sworn into the army on 20 November 10, 1942, and reported to Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio;
21 Anselmo Trevino served in Arkansas for five and a half months before
22 receiving an honorable discharge for a leg injury; Filiberto
23 Trevino served in England for 25 months as a member of the 1924th
24 Ordnance Ammunition Company of the U.S. Army Air Corps, loading and

1 unloading bombs and small arms from trucks; and

2 WHEREAS, Leopoldo Trevino joined the army in June 1943 and 3 served with the 586th Antiaircraft Battalion; after reporting to 4 Fort Bliss in El Paso and training at Fort Bowie in Arizona, he was 5 sent via Seattle to Oahu, Hawaii; in 1944, he took part in the 6 invasion of Okinawa, where he and his battalion survived a typhoon 7 by taking shelter in their tents and in caves formerly occupied by 8 the Japanese army; and

9 WHEREAS, The family's youngest son, Jose Manuel Trevino, was 10 inducted at Fort Sam Houston in May 1944; the following December he 11 shipped out to Germany, where he served with a machine-gun squad and 12 sustained injuries from both a road accident and enemy fire; and

13 WHEREAS, During the war, the Trevino brothers were often 14 unable to contact their family for months at a time; their father 15 spent many evenings in a local barber shop, listening for news of 16 his sons' units on the radio, while Mrs. Trevino and her three 17 surviving daughters, Adelina, Maria Concepcion, and Luisa, prayed 18 at home for their safe return; and

19 WHEREAS, By June 1946, the Trevino brothers had all been 20 honorably discharged and had returned to their loving family; 21 today, 70 years after the end of the war, five of the brothers have 22 passed away, but Leopoldo Trevino remains to honor their memory and 23 to pass the story of their heroism down to younger generations, who 24 have benefited from their sacrifice; and

25 WHEREAS, These esteemed Texans exemplified the best values of 26 a generation that helped to preserve democracy and liberty during 27 the most far-reaching conflict in world history, and their fellow
