

R E S O L U T I O N

1           WHEREAS, William M. Peña, a 1942 graduate of Texas A&M
2 University, was presented with the school's Distinguished Alumnus
3 Award at a ceremony in College Station in March 2015; and

4           WHEREAS, Born in Laredo in 1919, William Merriweather Peña
5 graduated from high school in 1937 and followed his older brother, 6 Gustavo, to Texas A&M, where he earned his bachelor's degree; an 7 active member of the university's Corps of Cadets, he quickly
8 answered his nation's call to duty in the aftermath of Pearl Harbor;
9 he graduated on a Friday, was sworn into the U.S. Army on Saturday, 10 and reported for duty at Fort Sam Houston on Sunday; and

11           WHEREAS, Lieutenant Peña served as a training officer in 12 California and Georgia before joining the fight in Europe in August 13 1944; he took part in the legendary Battle of the Bulge in the 14 Ardennes in December of that year, and as his unit pushed into 15 Germany that winter, he sustained serious injuries from a land 16 mine; promoted to captain, he spent two years recovering in 17 hospitals, and he earned the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart; and

18           WHEREAS, In 1947, Mr. Peña resumed his studies at Texas A&M 19 and earned a bachelor's degree in architecture in 1948; he went to 20 work for Caudill Rowlett Scott in College Station, and by the 21 following year, he was a partner in the firm; he moved to Houston 22 with CRS in 1959 and played a leading role in its growth from its 23 four original partners to more than 3,000 employees in 32 offices 24 around the world; he took an active part in the design and

1 construction of many community schools and auditoriums, including
2 over two dozen educational and civic buildings in his native
3 Laredo; and

4 WHEREAS, Mr. Peña quickly became known as one of the foremost 5 experts in architectural programming, the process by which 6 architects systematically evaluate a client's values, goals, 7 facts, and needs in order to provide an appropriate and 8 well-conceived design; in 1969, he coauthored Problem Seeking: New 9 Directions in Architectural Programming, which was followed by 10 Problem Seeking: An Architectural Programming Primer, now in its 11 fifth edition and still the standard text on the subject; by the 12 time he retired in 1984, he had directed the programming for more 13 than 400 projects in 38 states and nine foreign countries, and he 14 has instructed and mentored countless young architects; and

15 WHEREAS, The William M. Peña Professorship in Information
16 Management was endowed in his name at Texas A&M in 1990, and his 17 many other honors include recognition as an Outstanding
18 Architecture Alumnus in 1998 and receipt of the first Thomas
19 Jefferson Award in 2000 from the Houston Chapter of the American 20 Institute of Architects; in November 2013, he was appointed a 21 chevalier of the French Legion of Honor, and he was one of the 22 veterans of the Battle of the Bulge honored by the "Texas Aggies Go 23 to War" exhibition in Bastogne, Belgium, in 2014; and

24 WHEREAS, Over the course of a remarkable life, this 25 accomplished man has earned great distinction for himself, his 26 profession, and his alma mater, and he is truly deserving of this 27 prestigious award; now, therefore, be it
