

LEGISLATIVE BUDGET BOARD
Austin, Texas

FISCAL NOTE, 84TH LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

May 28, 2015

TO: Honorable Joe Straus, Speaker of the House, House of Representatives

FROM: Ursula Parks, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB2186 by Cook (Relating to suicide prevention training for educators in public schools.), As Passed 2nd House

No fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would require that staff development for educators in public schools include in-service training on suicide prevention annually. Public schools would be required to use a best practice-based program recommended by the Department of State Health Services (DSHS) in coordination with the Texas Education Agency (TEA). The training could be satisfied through independent review of online materials.

The bill would have no fiscal implications for DSHS or TEA.

Local Government Impact

There could be administrative costs to provide the training annually, and districts may require the use of substitutes. The administrative costs would vary from district to district depending on how many employees would need to be trained annually and whether the training was offered online or in person.
