Austin, Texas

FISCAL NOTE, 84TH LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

May 15, 2015

TO: Honorable Jimmie Don Aycock, Chair, House Committee on Public Education

FROM: Ursula Parks, Director, Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: SB2062 by Watson (Relating to authorizing certain charter holders to provide combined services for certain adult and high school dropout recovery programs.), As Engrossed

No fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would authorize certain charter holders to provide combined services for certain adult and high school dropout recovery programs.

Local Government Impact

The Excel Center and the Excel Center for Adults charter schools, operated by Goodwill Industries of Central Texas, could have students from ages 17 to 50 share classrooms, cafeterias, and activities as an exception to Section 25.001(b02), Education Code, which prohibits placement of students younger than 19 years of age with older students who have not attended school for the preceding three years.

The charter school would experience some administrative costs savings by not being required to separate older students from younger students.
