AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Chapter 23, Tax Code, requires the Texas comptroller of public accounts (comptroller) to develop and distribute manuals that detail how to appraise qualified open-space land and timber land. These appraisal manuals establish eligibility requirements for farm land and timber land to qualify for productivity appraisal and include procedures and methodologies that appraisal districts are required to follow. Under current law, the appraisal manuals must be approved by a majority vote of the governor, comptroller, Texas attorney general (attorney general), commissioner of agriculture, and commissioner of the General Land Office (GLO).

The number of actors involved makes the process for approving the manuals cumbersome. Moreover, revision of the appraisal manuals is infrequent. The agriculture manual has not been revised since 1990 and the timber manual was last updated in 2004. S.B. 594 simplifies the agriculture and timber appraisal manual revision process to allow these manuals to be updated more frequently.

S.B. 594 amends Chapter 23, Tax Code, to allow the comptroller to revise the manual for appraising qualified open-space land with the review and counsel of the Texas Department of Agriculture and to revise the manual for appraising qualified timber land with the review and counsel of the Texas A&M Forest Service. The bill removes requirements that these manuals be approved by a majority vote of the governor, comptroller, attorney general, commissioner of agriculture, and commissioner of GLO. S.B. 594 amends current law relating to the procedure for the approval of rules adopted by the comptroller relating to the appraisal of qualified open-space land and qualified timber land for ad valorem tax purposes.
