AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

The Port Neches Improvement District (district) is a 44-acre tract of land in Port Neches, Texas, located on the banks of the Neches River and owned by the City of Port Neches. The city purchased this property as a brownfield redevelopment site in 2001 with the intent to turn it into a family attraction and as a means to diversify its tax base. The developer, Michael Bolin of White Bolin, intends to develop the district as a waterfront river walk with restaurants, shops, movie theatres, a marina, and a hotel.

The district lies wholly within the Port Neches city limits. The district has to obtain the city's approval over most of its actions. The district will levy an ad valorem tax only within the district, and it will not generate revenue from a sales and use tax. The district also has limited eminent domain power and will have the ability to issue bonds.

The district is governed by a board of directors of seven persons, each appointed by the City Council of Port Neches, who will serve staggered terms.

The district has the following improvement powers: road building, bulkheads, parking garages, row beautification and improvement, lighting, banners, signs, sidewalks, and others. Additionally, it has the ability to improve storm water, wastewater, and water facilities.

S.B. 2271 amends current law relating to the creation of Port Neches Improvement District, provides authority to issue bonds, and provides authority to impose assessments, fees, or taxes.
