Fiscal Analysis

The bill would amend Chapter 953 of the Occupations Code and remove for-profit legal service contracts from regulation by the State. The bill would take effect September 1, 2017.

Methodology

The deregulation of this industry would result in a loss of revenue to the State. Companies, administrators and sales representatives pay fees for new and renewal applications, which would no longer be collected. Additionally, each company currently pays an annual fee to the Department of Licensing and Regulation (TDLR) equal to 1.7% of the amount a company collected from legal service contracts sold in Texas in the current year minus the amount the company paid to the state in franchise taxes in the same year. According to analysis by TDLR, the revenue from these fees has increased annually at an approximate rate of 8.9% and it was assumed this growth would continue.

Based on information provided by TDLR and the Comptroller of Public Accounts (CPA), the CPA estimates a loss in revenue to the General Revenue Fund of approximately $1.1 million in fiscal year 2018 and increasing to $1.5 million by fiscal year 2022. Approximately 1.5 FTEs across TDLR regulate this industry and would be reduced upon deregulation, resulting in a savings to General Revenue of $91,232 in salaries and associated personnel expenses per fiscal year.

According to the Texas Department of Insurance (TDI), should these entities no longer be subject to state regulation due to the provisions of this bill, TDI would no longer assess a maintenance tax for these entities as directed in Texas Insurance Code Chapter 260. Based on information provided by TDI, duties and responsibilities associated with implementing the provisions of the bill could be accomplished by utilizing existing resources and the provisions of the bill would not have a significant impact on maintenance tax revenue collections.

Based on the analysis of the Office of the Attorney General, duties and responsibilities associated with implementing the provisions of the bill could be accomplished by utilizing existing resources.

Local Government Impact

No fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
