AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

S.B. 2011 requires a study with the goal of creating a pilot program that would streamline the requirements for advanced practice nurses to become physicians.

The requirements to become an advanced practice registered nurse (APRN) often overlap with the requirements to become a licensed physician. Many APRNs pursuing a physician's license often have to repeat certain courses or requirements when in the process of entering medical school and also while attending medical school.

S.B. 2011 instructs the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board to partner with another institution of higher education, the Texas Medical Board, and the Texas Board of Nursing to conduct a study relating to the feasibility of developing a pilot program of streamlining the qualifications and prerequisites for an advanced practice registered nurse to fulfill the licensing requirements to practice medicine.

C.S.S.B. 2011 amends current law relating to a study and report regarding streamlining physician licensing requirements for advanced practice registered nurses.
