

By: Krause

H.C.R. No. 85

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

1 WHEREAS, Section 316.092, Government Code, sets out the 2 following in the subchapter "Preservation of Sufficient Balance in 3 Economic Stabilization Fund":

4 "(d) When the select committee has adopted under Subsection
5 (b) the amount of the sufficient balance of the fund for a state
6 fiscal biennium, the matter of approving that amount shall be 7 presented to each house of the legislature in a concurrent
8 resolution during the next succeeding regular legislative session.
9 The resolution must be presented for a vote in each house of the 10 legislature not later than the 30th day of that legislative 11 session, must be approved by a vote of a majority of the members of 12 each house, and must be finally approved by each house not later
13 than the 45th day of that legislative session. If a resolution 14 finally approved under this subsection is amended during the 15 legislative process to provide for a different sufficient balance
16 of the fund than that adopted under Subsection (b), that different 17 balance is the sufficient balance adopted under this section for 18 purposes of Section 316.093 [~~Adjustment of Constitutional~~
19 ~~Allocations to (Economic Stabilization) Fund and State Highway~~
20 ~~Fund~~]. If a resolution finally approved under this subsection does 21 not provide for a different sufficient balance of the fund or if a 22 resolution is not finally approved as provided by this subsection, 23 the sufficient balance adopted under Subsection (b) is the 24 sufficient balance adopted under this section for purposes of

1 Section 316.093"; now, therefore, be it

2 RESOLVED, That the 86th Legislature of the State of Texas
3 hereby express its continuing support for the process set out in 4 Section 316.092, Government Code, and honor the intent of the law
5 relating to the Sufficient Balance for the Economic Stabilization 6 Fund.