

1 his son Paul, who succeeded him, established the Aquarena Springs
2 amusement park on the property and in 1950 built an underwater
3 theater, where young women known as "aquamaids" staged exhibitions 4 of synchronized swimming and underwater ballet; at the peak of its 5 popularity, the park drew up to 350,000 visitors every year and was 6 featured in Life magazine, and the submerged theater was featured
7 on the cover of Popular Mechanics; in time, the show came to include 8 Glurpo, a pipe-smoking clown, and a swimming pig named Ralph; and

9 WHEREAS, The performances continued until the 1990s, when 10 Texas State University acquired the park and set a new course for 11 the property; today, the site hosts the Meadows Center for Water and 12 the Environment, which conducts research and educational programs 13 focused on promoting sustainable water management and 14 environmental stewardship; the critical nature of the center's work
15 is underscored by the fact that the Edwards Aquifer supplies 16 drinking water to several million people and serves as the 17 principal source of water for agriculture and industry throughout 18 the region, while waters discharged by the aquifer also support
19 recreation and tourism; in addition, the aquifer system sustains
20 over 40 highly adapted species and a number that are either
21 threatened or endangered, including five found in the San Marcos 22 Springs and a stretch of river just below the springs; and

23 WHEREAS, In 2016, the Mermaid Society of San Marcos was 24 created to foster harmony among the varied interests of 25 environmentalism, the arts, and economic growth; the society has 26 established an annual Mermaid Week, which includes a parade, the 27 Mermaid Society Ball, and the Mermaid SPLASH Festival; and

1 WHEREAS, Through its arts program and with revenue from its 2 hotel occupancy tax, the City of San Marcos has funded a number of 3 mermaid-themed works of public art, including a mural and a series 4 of seven-foot-tall statues decorated by various artists; and

5 WHEREAS, By adopting the mermaid as a symbol of the city, the 6 people of San Marcos are encouraging public interest in the natural 7 environment and highlighting the central role that their community
8 is playing in preserving the water resources of the Lone Star State;
9 now, therefore, be it

10 RESOLVED, That the 86th Legislature of the State of Texas
11 hereby designate San Marcos as the Mermaid Capital of Texas; and, be 12 it further

13 RESOLVED, That, in accordance with the provisions of Section
14 391.003\(e\), Government Code, this designation remain in effect 15 until the 10th anniversary of its designation.