IN RE: HB496 by Gervin-Hawkins (Relating to the placement of bleeding control kits in public schools and to required training of school personnel.), As Introduced

No significant fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

It is assumed that the provisions of the bill relating to the placement of bleeding control kits in public schools and to required training of school personnel could be absorbed using existing resources.

Local Government Impact

The bill would require school districts and charter schools to purchase bleeding control kits. TEA assumes each kit would cost of $60. Assuming two kits per campus, TEA estimates a statewide cost to districts and charters of $1.0 million in fiscal year 2020.
