TO: Honorable Dan Huberty, Chair, House Committee on Public Education

FROM: John McGeady, Assistant Director Sarah Keyton, Assistant Director
Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB873 by Allen (Relating to behavior improvement plans and behavioral intervention plans for certain public school students and notification and documentation requirements regarding certain behavior management techniques.), Committee Report 1st House, Substituted

No fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

Local Government Impact

The Texas Education Agency (TEA) assumes the provisions of the bill requiring districts to conduct a Functional Behavioral Analysis within ten school days following a disciplinary action regarding a student who receives special education services that constitutes a change in placement would result in costs to school districts for additional staff time. Although costs will vary by district and circumstance, this analysis assumes that the bill would result in significant costs for some districts.
