FISCAL NOTE, 86TH LEGISLATIVE REGULAR SESSION

March 24, 2019

TO: Honorable Nicole Collier, Chair, House Committee on Criminal Jurisprudence

FROM: John McGeady, Assistant Director Sarah Keyton, Assistant Director
Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB1539 by Geren (Relating to the punishment for the criminal offense of tampering with or fabricating physical evidence.), As Introduced

The fiscal impact of implementing the bill is indeterminate due to the lack of data or information that would allow the number of cases in which the physical evidence tampered with or fabricated was related only to an offense punishable as a misdemeanor to be distinguished from all other tampering with or fabricating physical evidence cases. These data are necessary to estimate the fiscal impact of the bill's provisions.

The bill would amend the Penal Code to reduce the punishment for tampering with or fabricating physical evidence in certain circumstances from a third degree felony to a Class A misdemeanor if the physical evidence tampered with or fabricated was related only to an offense punishable as a misdemeanor. Reducing the punishment for any criminal offense is expected to result in fewer demands upon the correctional resources of counties or of the State due to shorter terms of supervision in the community and fewer persons sentenced to a term of confinement in state correctional institutions. The bill may have a positive fiscal impact by decreasing the number of people incarcerated within state correctional institutions. Whether the bill would result in a significant fiscal impact cannot be determined due to the lack of data or information related to the number of cases in which the physical evidence tampered with or fabricated was related only to an offense punishable as a misdemeanor. The Office of Court Administration and the Texas Department of Criminal Justice indicate the modifications outlined in the bill's provisions will not result in a significant fiscal impact. The Comptroller of Public Accounts indicates the fiscal impact on the state cannot be estimated.

Local Government Impact

A Class A misdemeanor is punishable by a fine of not more than $4,000, confinement in jail for a term not to exceed one year, or both. Costs associated with enforcement, prosecution and confinement could likely be absorbed within existing resources. Revenue gain from fines imposed and collected is not anticipated to have a significant fiscal implication.
