April 22, 2019

TO: Honorable Eddie Lucio III, Chair, House Committee on Insurance

FROM: John McGeady, Assistant Director Sarah Keyton, Assistant Director
Legislative Budget Board

IN RE: HB4420 by Anchia (Relating to insurance coverage for the disposition of embryonic and fetal tissue remains.), As Introduced

No significant fiscal implication to the State is anticipated.

The bill would amend the Insurance Code relating to insurance coverage for the disposition of embryonic and fetal tissue remains. Based on information provided by the Texas Department of Insurance, Employees Retirement System, The University of Texas System Administration, and Texas A&M University System Administration, this analysis assumes that the duties and responsibilities associated with implementing the provisions of the bill could be accomplished by utilizing existing resources.

According to the Health and Human Services Commission, the provisions of the bill would not apply to Medicaid because the provisions conflict with state and/or federal Medicaid law; therefore, no fiscal impact is anticipated.

The bill applies only to an insurance policy, evidence of coverage, annuity or other contract, or group benefit plan that is delivered, issued for delivery, or renewed on or after January 1, 2020. The bill would take effect on September 1, 2019.

Local Government Impact
