Fiscal Analysis

The bill would require the Texas Education Agency (TEA) to conduct an audit of professional development, continuing education, and training requirements for educators at least once every four years. Based on the results of the audit, the bill would direct TEA to seek to eliminate any unnecessary training requirements.

The first audit would have to be completed by December 1, 2020. The bill would take effect September 1, 2019.

Methodology

According to TEA, the agency would expect to contract with an outside vendor to perform the audit at an estimated cost of $200,000 in fiscal year 2020. Other costs associated with the bill's implementation could be absorbed within existing resources.

Local Government Impact

No significant fiscal implication to school districts or charter schools is anticipated.
