

Susan Krudwig

I am submitting my comments in opposition to gun control schemes and to push for pro-Second Amendment reforms with the members of this Select Committee.

Almost 29 years ago, Suzanne Hupp watched a madman kill her parents and 21 others while eating lunch at a Luby's in Killeen Texas. All the while her gun was left in the car because as a law-abiding citizen, she followed the law. The killer DID not. Suzanne Hupp's testimony before Congress was compelling. She states, had I had my gun, I could have stopped him.

The Sutherland Springs church shooting and taking 27 lives is another example of keeping guns out of the hands of good people because "they follow the law". Did THAT gunman (Devin Kelley) follow the law? Had some of the parishioners had their guns, do you think 27 lives would have been lost that day?

I could go on and on with more examples where innocent lives were lost because bad guys did not follow the law while good guys did.

MORE LAWS WILL NOT KEEP GUNS OUT OF THE HANDS OF BAD PEOPLE. ENFORCE THE LAWS ALREADY ON THE BOOKS.
