H.C.R. No. 67

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

1 WHEREAS, The many and diverse contributions made by 2 Tejanos--Texans of Spanish, Mexican, African, and indigenous 3 descent--have been fundamental to the history and heritage of Texas 4 for more than three centuries; and

5 WHEREAS, Tejano men and women were the founders of the 6 state's oldest permanent settlements, including the cities of San 7 Antonio, Nacogdoches, Victoria, Goliad, and El Paso, and they were 8 the first to name many of our state's waterways and natural 9 features; and

10 WHEREAS, Legendary Tejanos of the Navarro, Ruiz, Menchaca, 11 Arocha, and Seguin families played an integral part in the effort to 12 settle Texas and negotiated peace with the Comanches and other
13 indigenous peoples; on April 6, 1813, Tejanos were the first 14 residents to declare for an independent Texas, and at the Battle of 15 Medina that same year, they gave their lives in a bloody engagement 16 with a Spanish royalist army that remains the deadliest clash in the 17 history of Texas; moreover, in an act that was an important prelude
18 to the Texas Revolution, Tejanos were the first to rise in defense 19 of the Mexican Constitution of 1824, and such prominent figures as 20 José Antonio Navarro and José Francisco Ruiz were signers of the 21 Texas Declaration of Independence in 1836; and

22 WHEREAS, Many Tejanos risked their lives and livelihood
23 during the Texas Revolution, and its heroes include Gregorio
24 Esparza and José Toribio Losoya, both of whom died at the Alamo, as

1 well as members of their families, who were some of the few 2 survivors of the battle; among the others who stepped forward in the 3 fight for independence were the troops led by Plácido Benavides,
4 who fought bravely across South Texas, and the men of Juan Seguín's 5 company, who helped secure the decisive victory at the Battle of San 6 Jacinto; later, Adina Emilia De Zavala led the effort to preserve
7 historic structures at the Alamo so that the legacy of that battle
8 and the entire revolution could be better appreciated by future
9 generations; and

10 WHEREAS, Devoted to the concepts of liberty and equality,
11 numerous Tejanos were early and powerful advocates for free speech,
12 freedom of the press, and public education in Texas; in the 20th 13 century, that tradition was continued by such individuals as the 14 journalist Jovita Idár, who called for women's suffrage and 15 campaigned against lynching, the restaurateur and civic leader
16 Felix Tijerina, who pushed for bilingual education, and attorney
17 John J. Herrera, who won important legal cases related to school
18 segregation, workplace discrimination, and other civil rights 19 issues; and

20 WHEREAS, Countless Tejanos have served with great 21 distinction in our nation's military; the Medal of Honor, America's 22 highest military commendation for valor, was awarded to seven 23 Tejanos during World War II, two during the Korean War, and three 24 during the Vietnam War; physician, activist, and World War II
25 veteran Hector P. Garcia founded the American GI Forum of Texas to 26 champion the rights of former Hispanic service members, and the 27 organization went on to collaborate with the League of United Latin

1 American Citizens to fight discrimination against the Mexican 2 American community as a whole; and

3 WHEREAS, The culture of the Lone Star State is inextricably
4 linked with the contributions of Tejanos; they were the first to 5 introduce rodeos, expert horsemanship, and the raising of longhorn 6 cattle, which became central to the state's western identity; in 7 regard to food, Tejanos combined the flavors and ingredients of 8 Mexico and the United States to create Tex-Mex, the state's most 9 iconic cuisine; Texas music is unimaginable without the 10 contributions of such great Tejano artists as Lydia Mendoza, Flaco 11 Jiménez, Rosita Fernández, and Selena, and the musical styles they 12 helped popularize range from romantic ballads to corridos that tell 13 stories of adventure and resistance; and

14 WHEREAS, Throughout the state's history, Tejano men and women
15 have been champions of social and political progress while exerting
16 a tremendous influence on our way of life; deeply devoted to Texas, 17 they have overcome injustice and discrimination to play an 18 instrumental role in the epic saga of the Lone Star State, and it is 19 indeed fitting that their contributions be officially honored; now, 20 therefore, be it

21 RESOLVED, That the 87th Legislature of the State of Texas
22 hereby designate April 6 as Tejano Day, an observance that 23 coincides with the date in 1813 when Tejano leaders issued the first 24 declaration of Texas independence; and, be it further

25 RESOLVED, That, in accordance with the provisions of Section
26 391.004\(d\), Government Code, this designation remain in effect 27 until the 10th anniversary of the date this resolution is finally

1 passed by the legislature.
