A BILL TO BE ENTITLED

1 AN ACT

2 relating to preliminary examination periods for mental health

3 protective custody.

4 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

5 SECTION 1. Section 573.021(b), Health and Safety Code, is

6 amended to read as follows:

- 7 (b) A person accepted for a preliminary examination may be
- 8 detained in custody for not longer than  $\frac{72}{12}$  [48] hours after the time
- 9 the person is presented to the facility unless a written order for
- 10 protective custody is obtained. The 72-hour [48-hour] period
- 11 allowed by this section includes any time the patient spends
- 12 waiting in the facility for medical care before the person receives
- 13 the preliminary examination. If the 72-hour [48-hour] period ends
- 14 on a Saturday, Sunday, legal holiday, or before 4 p.m. on the first
- 15 succeeding business day, the person may be detained until 4 p.m. on
- 16 the first succeeding business day. If the 72-hour [48-hour] period
- 17 ends at a different time, the person may be detained only until 4
- 18 p.m. on the day the  $\underline{72\text{-hour}}$  [48-hour] period ends. If extremely
- 19 hazardous weather conditions exist or a disaster occurs, the
- 20 presiding judge or magistrate may, by written order made each day,
- 21 extend by an additional 24 hours the period during which the person
- 22 may be detained. The written order must declare that an emergency
- 23 exists because of the weather or the occurrence of a disaster.
- 24 SECTION 2. The change in law made by this Act to Section

S.B. No. 427

- 1 573.021, Health and Safety Code, applies to an emergency detention
- 2 that begins on or after the effective date of this Act. An emergency
- 3 detention that begins before the effective date of this Act is
- 4 governed by the law as it existed immediately before that date, and
- 5 that law is continued in effect for that purpose.
- 6 SECTION 3. This Act takes effect September 1, 2021.
