Fiscal Analysis

This bill would amend the Health and Safety Code regarding the regulation of low-level radioactive waste disposal. The bill would create a reserved capacity for party state waste and specify a correction for determining capacity based on radioactive decay. A limitation of nonparty compact waste would be created based on the amount of party state waste currently stored in the facility.

The bill would eliminate the five percent state fee on non-federal compact waste and would reduce the twenty percent surcharge on nonparty compact waste to five percent. A compact waste disposal facility would be required to conduct an annual comparison of party state and non-party state compact waste disposal fees and issue a rebate for any party state fees that were assessed above the average fee of non-party state fees.

This bill would take effect September 1, 2021.

Methodology

According to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, elimination of the five percent state fee on non-federal compact waste and reducing the twenty percent surcharge on nonparty compact waste to five percent would have a negative fiscal impact to the state through reducing annual revenues to the General Revenue Fund by $399,000 and to the General Revenue–Dedicated Environmental Radiation and Perpetual Care Account No. 5158 by $1,125,000. For the purposes of this analysis, it is assumed that levels of waste that would be deposited at the Texas Compact Waste Disposal Facility would not increase through 2026.

Local Government Impact

No significant fiscal implication to units of local government is anticipated.
