Vote no. This law should not be changed. Allowing a 'closer' family member to be appointed election clerk should [still not] be allowed.

Support. Makes sense and will help relieve the problem of finding enough election workers.

Please Vote no! This bill would allow family members to work together in the election process in Texas. If one of the family members are dishonest, there's a good chance that the other one is as well. Nepotism is generally prohibited in both public and private workplaces....why would we allow it in the government arena?

Vote NO to prevent family members from working together in the election process in Texas. Nepotism normally is banned in public and private work places, so it shouldn't be allowed in elections.
