Please vote Yes!! Statistics are often difficult to find. Unfortunately, voters can't rely on print or TV media to find out the whole truth. These statistics are important and our business! Voters need to have access to this information.

Vote yes. Absolute post election-related material on websites - and in a timely fashion. And speaking of timely fashion, PLEASE GET HB6 ON THE CALENDAR AND TO THE SENATE!

NO – Since the word “shall” is used, it seems to me that it is being mandated for school districts, cities and counties that maintain a website. Although these entities may post this information, I feel that results should be sent to and posted by the Secretary of State, so they are available in one place that can be held accountable.

Vote YES! Finding this information has always been difficult! We can't trust the League of Women Voters anymore, because they only want to post what they want you to vote for: they are not non-partisan anymore, and haven't been for about a decade. We certainly can't trust the print or TV media to give us the full information anymore. Posting the date of elections, locations to vote, candidates who are running, the results of each elections after the election, the total number of votes cast for each candidate for or against each measure, the total number of votes cast in person on election day, votes by mail during early voting, the total number of counted/uncounted provisional ballots cast: all of these are our business! We should have that information, as voters!

HB 2860

Hello! We need non-partisan control of this information. The mainstream media cannot be trusted anymore. We have the right as citizens to know the results of elections. In addition to know the total number of votes and when people cast votes.

Good Day,
I ask that the Chair and Committee Members of the the House Elections Committee ensure that HB 2860 pass out of the election committee. This would require each county conducting an election to post the dates of each election and the location of all polling locations on its website not later than 21 days before election day. Would also require the county to post the results of each election.
Thank you.

VOTE YES! We no longer have a bi-partisan place to find this information. We need to make this information as widely known as possible.

Vote YES! Anything that helps voters get full information about everything related to elections should be implemented.

YES! The posting of date, locations, candidates, results, etc. is information which should be easily provided to all since we do not trust the media and/or partisan groups for biased promotion.

Vote YES! I always have had trouble finding election results. This is great because it is pure data. We certainly can't trust the media to give us the full information anymore. That is why I am against the bill that automatically elects candidates who run unopposed, we need to see the numbers. Nothing related to voting should be automatic. Posting the date of elections, locations to vote, candidates who are running, the results of each elections after the election, the total number of votes cast for each candidate for or against each measure, the total number of votes cast in person on election day, votes by mail during early voting, the total number of counted/uncounted provisional ballots cast: all of these are our business! The League of Women Voters is partisan they only want to post what they want you to vote for: they are not non-partisan anymore. We should have that information, as voters!
