AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

In 2017, the Texas Board of Nursing (BON) issued the Board Education Guideline 3.7.4.a in response to numerous reports and questions from students, parents, and policymakers about the use of vendor-created standardized examinations, especially when these exams are used to deny students the opportunity to take the NCLEX licensure exam. Many vocational and professional nursing education programs had incorporated the use of these exams into the curriculum in various ways. At the time, a survey revealed many nursing programs were using these exams as a graduation requirement or to deny students from receiving their affidavit of graduation, which is required to be submitted to register for the NCLEX licensure exam.

Although BON has no purview over a nursing program's decisions to use these exams, BON staff met with three vendors to clarify the intended purposes for these exams and to assist nursing programs in their use. All agreed standardized examinations are one of many measures of program quality. With input from the vendors, Board Education Guideline 3.7.4.a outlines the effective uses of vendor-created standardized exams as an evaluation of student progress and cautions nursing programs from using these exams in a high stakes manner. The guideline recommends that these exams should not prevent students from progressing or graduating.

Six years later, a second survey revealed that despite BON's guideline and cautions, many nursing programs disregarded BON's recommendation and continue to use vendor-created standardized exams in a high stakes manner. BON continues to respond to many complaints or questions from students.

S.B. 1429 would authorize BON to adopt rules to prohibit the use of vendor-created standardized examinations as a graduation requirement or to deny students an affidavit of graduation. The bill codifies the same recommended uses for the exams outlined in Board Education Guideline 3.7.4.a.

S.B. 1429 amends current law relating to the use of standardized examinations by a school of nursing or educational program.
