Committee Report (Substituted)

AUTHOR'S / SPONSOR'S STATEMENT OF INTENT

Since its inception in 1971, many portions of the Texas Real Estate Research Center (center) have not been updated. Similarly, the Texas Real Estate Commission (TREC) needs to be modernized to ensure they align with current practices.

For example, there has been a growing issue in real estate in which someone might purchase an option or assignable contract on a property that is for sale. Many do not understand this fact, assuming they are participating in a traditional sale.

Lastly, there is a specific license required for entities to work with TREC, separate from the agent or broker license that owns the entity. Sometimes a licensee only uses business entities to receive commission payments, and some have expressed this requirement in these situations is overburdensome on licensees in these specific cases.

Solution:

C.S.S.B. 1577 resolves these issues by first, updating TREC and the center's outdated language and practices, as well as clarifying the center's source of funding. The bill modernizes terms and procedures to match modern language and operational standards; allows the center to hold virtual public meetings under specific circumstances; clarifies the timeline for advisory board appointees' assumption of office; and clarifies that the center receives funding from a fee paid by real estate licensees at the time of biannual license renewal, calculated on an annual basis.

The bill further updates statutes related to TREC's functions by raising the amount that can be paid to aggrieved consumers from the real estate recovery fund and ensures that fund is adequately financed; ensures that TREC cannot set exorbitant training requirements for broker licenses; and updates TREC staff title references.

Additionally, C.S.S.B. 1577 provides notification to sellers entering into wholesaling contracts and removes business entity licensing where a real estate licensee establishes an LLC only to receive compensation.

C.S.S.B. 1577 amends current law relating to the Texas Real Estate Research Center, the Real Estate Research Advisory Committee, the Texas Real Estate Commission, and the Texas Appraiser Licensing and Certification Board, increases a fee, and authorizes a fee.
