H.C.R. No. 76

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

1 WHEREAS, The National Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986
2 has allowed vaccine manufacturers to operate with impunity,
3 shielded from accountability, while American taxpayers ultimately 4 pay the price for injuries caused by their products; and

5 WHEREAS, The NCVIA has shielded vaccine manufacturers from 6 any and all liability for injuries and deaths resulting from the use 7 of their products; and

8 WHEREAS, Enacted on November 14, 1986, the NCVIA has 9 prevented millions of vaccine-injured individuals from having 10 their claims heard by a jury of their peers and has denied them 11 their state and federal constitutional rights of due process; and

12 WHEREAS, The NCVIA has caused disparities between vaccine
13 research, other forms of medical research, and the testing of 14 medical drugs; knowing that they are shielded from claims of 15 vaccine injury and death, vaccine manufacturers have no incentive 16 to test their products as rigorously as do manufacturers of other 17 medical drugs; now, therefore, be it

18 RESOLVED, That the 88th Legislature of the State of Texas
19 respectfully urge the United States Congress to repeal the National 20 Childhood Vaccine Injury Act of 1986; and, be it further

21 RESOLVED, That the Texas secretary of state forward official 22 copies of this resolution to the president of the United States, to 23 the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House of 24 Representatives of the United States Congress, and to all the
