2 celebrating Eid al-Fitr in April 2023 to mark the end of Ramadan, 3 participating in traditions that span many centuries; and

4 WHEREAS, The ninth month of the year in the Islamic lunar
5 calendar, Ramadan is a time when Muslims reinforce their spiritual 6 beliefs; they reaffirm their dedication to the collective good and 7 their commitment to work toward the well-being of people from all 8 walks of life; and

9 WHEREAS, Muslims abstain from food and drink from sunrise
10 until sunset, striving to deepen their faith, practice 11 self-discipline, and better understand the plight of the poor and 12 hungry; they break their daily fasts by sharing meals with family 13 and friends; and

14 WHEREAS, After a month of fasting, prayer, and 15 self-reflection, Ramadan concludes with the celebration of Eid
16 al-Fitr, which falls during the first three days of Shawwal, the 17 10th month of the Islamic calendar; in Islamic countries, 18 festivities typically last up to three days, while in the United 19 States, the observance is generally shorter; this year, Eid al-Fitr 20 begins at sunset on April 20 and ends at sunset on April 21; and

21 WHEREAS, Sunrise on the first day of Eid al-Fitr is 22 solemnized with a communal prayer, salat al-eid; the holiday 23 continues with official receptions and private visits, greetings of 24 "Eid Mubarak," and the giving of presents; in addition, it is a time

1 to visit the final resting places of relatives; some volunteer at 2 food pantries or perform other acts of charity in the spirit of Eid;
3 the customs that accompany Ramadan are emblematic of the rich and 4 diverse traditions that define Muslim cultures; and

5 WHEREAS, Texas is home to more than 500,000 Muslims, who 6 contribute in myriad ways to the economic, cultural, and social 7 fabric of our state, and it is indeed fitting to acknowledge the 8 profound importance of Ramadan to the members of this vibrant
9 community as they celebrate with friends, families, and fellow
10 worshippers; now, therefore, be it

11 RESOLVED, That the House of Representatives of the 88th Texas
12 Legislature hereby recognize Eid al-Fitr 2023 and extend to Muslims 13 across the State of Texas sincere best wishes for a joyous and 14 meaningful observance.
