Anybody with a modicum of intelligence knows that you don't squander limited time and resources investigating things that offer very minimal risk. Small farms have already been exempted from this harassment. To add insult to injury, the inspectors don't even have concise rules to follow. So if an inspector happens to visit a farm when they are in a bad mood because they are having a bad-hair day, that farmer could end up suffering the consequences. This isn't the TDA being Food Safety Inspectors, this is the TDA BEING BULLIES!
